Current Comment

Last week the daily press of the land was full of information regarding the somewhat stormy marital affairs of Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight boxing champ, and his wife, Estelle Taylor of Hollywood. Just as a matter of curiosity we would like to know who cares a rap whether Mr. Dempsey and Miss Taylor remain married to each other—or to anybody else, for that matter.

So much good space devoted to so stupid a topic affects us somewhat as did a modern play, witnessed by two elderly maiden ladies, both of whom were good as gold and shunned slang and profanity like the smallpox. After viewing the several bedroom scenes and listening to considerable snappy chatter from behind the footlights, said one to the other: "Come on Susie, let's get the —— out of here!" "Oke," replied Susie, "just as soon as I find my —— ——— umbrella!"

At the local library there is a copy of the "Report of the California Commission for the Study of Educational Problems." Carefully compiled after a comprehensive study of the situation, this report deals with student problems, teacher problems, school organization problems, school costs and revenue, miscellaneous school problems. If you want some first hand information, spend a little time perusing this report.

Included in the report are public school problems suggested by a post card survey of California. From Campbell comes the following: "How to prevent the cost of education from continually increasing out of proportion to the number of pupils." That may be a problem in some communities, but we believe Campbell is free from such worries. More to the point would be: "How to provide suitable facilities for our school children regardless of their numbers."

Here's a bright one from San Francisco: "Too many 'doodads.' Not enough real discipline and grind required to develop mind and character. Too many women teachers in high schools." That sounds like it might have come from a disgruntled ex-principal of the old school.

From Fresno comes a suggestion which, if adopted, would be in a fair way to wreck the work of years: "Some way to manage a course in religious training." Nothing could do more to disrupt the comparative harmony of public school administration, in our opinion.

Among other suggested problems we find that many fear our teachers are working for the money there is in it rather than for the joy of the thing. (If that were not true we would have a pretty stupid collection of teachers.) Others would have less home work. Still others want a return of the three R's and the birch. More work and less play, etc. Few suggested more attention to the health of pupils; we found no one desirous of seeing this matter featured on the regular report card.

Getting back to earth, Campbell's new police officer is now on the job. There was considerable rumor to the effect that certain subscribers to the police fund were dissatisfied with the selection of an out-of-town man for the job, but a careful check-up revealed the fact that most of the howling came from non-subscribers. Members of the Chamber of Commerce and particularly the police committee are to be congratulated on the manner in which they solved a rather delicate problem. Let's let it go at that.

That's all.

Seascout Praised In Letter To The Local Scout Head

A splendid tribute was paid to a Campbell Seascout and to the local Seascout organization last week. This recognition came in the form of a letter from F. H. Bosbyshell, the commodore of all Pacific coast Seascouts and prominent Los Angeles yachtsman. This letter was a result of the visit of Quartermaster Noel Voge at Los Angeles a few weeks ago. Campbell may indeed by proud of this organization which has as its members boys who merit the receipt of such well-earned praise, and whose example to the younger boys of this organization may help them to later be the same kind of young men. The letter follows:

Worthin Grattan,
Campbell Calif.

Dear Worthin:

As the man responsible for the Seascout training of Noel Voge, I must write you a note of thanks and appreciation for the very successful job you have done. I have seldom if ever known such a thoroughly satisfactory young man. His personality is winning, doubtless due to his mother's training; he is remarkably dependable and trustworthy; his manners and "front" are all that could be desired, and his principles are, as near as may be, a perfect approach to those of a scout.

We were together constantly, day and night for a week, and one gets to know a companion in that time. He had a great deal of patience and consideration for my foibles and notions, and gave no slightest evidence of impatience with an old man's ideas—something always to be expected when young and old are together.

He assisted me very greatly in getting my boat in shape for a Seascout cruise, and in company with the other Seascouts he was very helpful in the conduct of the cruise, taking charge and responsibility when necessary, yet never putting himself forward when not needed. One of our best Los Angeles Seascouts paid him a tribute when he said, "That guy knows his stuff." And indeed he does; I can testify to his deserving of the quartermaster's rate.

I hope you may send me other of your Seascouts from time to time, and I would be particularly pleased if they might be like Noel.

Yours very truly,
F. H. Bosbyshell

Past Masters Of Grange Honored At Surprize Program

The past masters of the Orchard City Grange were honored at a regular meeting of that organization last Tuesday night at the I.O.O.F. hall where a good crowd was present. Each year on this occasion there is a surprize program. Joe McKinnon was instrumental in the success of Tuesday's program. Each past master gave a brief talk and sang a solo over radio station KPO over a special hook-up.

Movies featuring the past masters were shown by J. C. Gordon of San Jose, prominent member of the local organization. Following the program refreshments were served in the banquet room.

STENOTYPY CLASS DEMONSTRATES AT GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The pioneer stenotypy class of the local high school this evening demonstrated the use of the stenotype machine from 7 to 8 o'clock in the grammar school. Immediately following the exhibition they reported the address given by State Superintendent of Education Vierling Kersey.

The stenotype is one of the latest advances in the commercial department, and this class, Mrs. A. C. Dart, instructor, has set an example for all succeeding stenotypy classes. The stenotype is a small shorthand machine, having many advantages over convenional shorthand.

MRS. FRANK R. ANDERSON HAS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Frank R. Anderson entertained the members of her bridge club at her home on Campbell avenue Wednesday evening, April 15.

The prize for high score was taken away by Mrs. K. Gullick. Lunch was served at midnight.

Enjoying Mrs. Anderson's hospitality were Mesdames Julius Bachman, Henry Young, Ethan Lanphear, R. H. Knappen, Horace Lea, Earl Young and Burton Young.

ALUMNI DANCE SATURDAY NITE IS BIG SUCCESS

A successful dance was held in the high school annex Saturday evening by the Campbell High School Alumni association. An all-girl orchestra furnished excellent music with saxophone, piano, drums and banjo.

The hall had been artistically decorated with red and white streamers. Refreshments of punch and wafers were served throughout the evening.

Much credit for the marked success of the affair is due Dan Yeager, president of the association; Marion Margeson, secretary; Roy Archibald, treasurer; Nuncy Abinante, Veva Nichols, Louis Smith Willis, Ralph H. Hyde, Cecil Keesling, Verna Lusher and Warner Raab.

Sam Sanfilippo To Sell Fresh Meats

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sanfilippo of the Campbell People's Market announce in this issue of the Press the opening Saturday of a meat department in their store.

They have installed a modern, refrigerated display case and plan to carry all kinds of fresh meats.

On the opening day every customer making a 50 cent purchase will be given a "Bird's Nest" plant in an attractive pot.

GIRLS' LEAGUE ENTERTAINS MOTHERS AT TEA

Mothers were guests of honor at the annual tea and reception given by the Girls' League of the local hi school held at the annex Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

A one act play entitled "All on a Summer's Day" was well presented, the cast including Lulu Candwell, Margaret Keesling, Sylvia Best and Esther Carlton. Other features of the excellent program were a trumpet solo by Betty Keesling, vocal solo by Genevieve DiFiore, tap dance by Lulu Murdock, Idelle Fulton, Antoinette Malvini and Ethel Kirk; vocal solo by Muriel Crothers and by Alice and Cora Blakesley; cello solo by Dorothy Watson, and several tumbling acts by girls of the gym classes.

Refreshments were served.

New Police Officer Assumes Charge Of Law And Order

Yesterday Dr. F. R. Anderson, local Chamber of Commerce president, was introducing about town Harry D. Evans, Campbell's new police officer and night watchman. Mr. Evans, an ex-navy man with considerable police experience to his credit, was well received by patrons of the protection system. Mr. and Mrs. Evans and their 12-year-old son, who is already enrolled in the Campbell grammar school, are living in the Ernest Snow house on Rincon avenue, where Mr. Evans can be reached by telephone when he is not on duty down town. The number is Campbell 227.

Dr. Anderson reported also that additional street lights for Campbell are now assured. Money for the erection of ornamental brackets on already standing poles will not be forthcoming until next year's funds are gathered in, but preliminary work will have been completed and the work of installation will proceed rapidly as soon as the necessary money is available. The additional tax will be very slight, and the additional light will be very welcome. Another accomplishment of the Chamber of Commerce.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS REVIEW OF NEW BOOK

In spite of summer heat an interested group of members of the Country Woman's club met Monday and were entertained delightfully.

Mrs. F. V. Perrott announced as the opening number two songs by Mrs. R. H. Hyde, with Mrs. G. S. Robson, accompanist. She had chosen as her selections "Come to the Fair," Martin, and "A Heart of Gold," Billin.

Mrs. F. L. Howes gave a very skillful review of Marietta Andrews' delightful book "My Studio Window." It is the type of book most adapted to dipping into for a taste here and there and was thoroly enjoyed.

Emily and Irene Bohnett, the young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bohnett, who have favored the club several times before, danced a dainty minuet in charming colonial costumes, followed by a tap dance, Mrs. Perrott playing for them.

Punch and wafers were served at the conclusion of the program, other members of the committee, Mrs. E. E. Pomeroy and Mrs. L. C. Shank assisting.

The room was attractively arranged with lavender iris, roses and pink bottle-brush.

Mrs. Mazarova George had offered to give a talk on literature and life for the benefit of the library in appreciation of the great service it and the librarian, Mrs. Lillian Voge, have been to her in her work. The date was set for Tuesday evening, May 5, to be held in the community hall, with a 25 cent admission charge.

Arrangements for the annual picnic, June 1, for which Mrs. Warren Shelly has extended an invitation to her home at Ben Lomond, were discussed but the matter of transportation was not settled. Definite plans will be made at the annual meeting May 4.

SCHOOL WEEK IS OBSERVED HERE SUN. AND TODAY

The observance of Public Schools week in Campbell began Sunday with a cantata given at the Congregational church entitled "The Dawn of the Kingdom," and a brief sermon on "Finding an Authority." The Odd Fellows and Masons attended in a body.

Extensive preparations today culminated in a series of school work demonstrations starting at 9 o'clock in the grammar school. Work in every room was open to inspection and special demonstration classes were held at intervals throughout the day.

At 11 o'clock this morning the Hon. Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, spoke before the high school student body, and at noon he addressed the local Kiwanis club

Demonstrations were continued at the grammar school this afternoon, and this evening a dinner was served in the cafeteria for Mr. Kersey, teachers and board members. Following dinner an exhibit of high school work was on view at the grammar school.

The evening program took up at 8 o'clock in the auditorium with Mr. Kersey again principal speaker. This meeting was open to the public and was attended by local lodges en masse. On the program with Mr. Kersey appeared the hi glee club, orchestra and band, the grammar school orchestras, third and four graders in a play, and "Sauce for the Gosling" was presented by the hi dramatic club.

"Verse Speakers" Score Hit Here

The Verse Speaking choir of the San Jose State college, sponsored here last Friday night by ladies of the Congregational Guild, presented to an appreciative audience in the grammar school auditorium the following program:

"The Highwayman," Alfred Noyes; "Recessional," Rudyard Kipling; "Jazz Fantasia," Carl Sandburg; "Boots," Kipling; "Floors," Hagedoin; "The Family Drum Corps," Malcolm Douglas; "Congo," Vachel Lendsay; Twenty-third Psalm.

Members of this famous group are Adele Melone, Vera Parr, Carol Murdock, Frances Jewell, Ruth French, Marian Blackford, Grace Rich, Ruth Montgomery, Jas. Clancy, Howard Nelson, Richard Lewis and Alfred Dunn.

Alfonso of Spain Surrenders Power, but Does Not Abdicate—Illinois Governor Vetoes "Wet" Bill—Nicholas Longworth Buried.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

Ex-King Alfonso

AS KING ALfonso and members of the royal family scattered into exile, leaders of the Spanish republic moved to insure the life of the new regime and to make royalty's return to Spain impossible.

The prison gates of Barcelona, Valencia, Jaca and other cities were opened for thousands of political and revolutionary hostages incarcerated during the dictatorships of the last eight years, while crowds boisterously celebrated the death of the monarchy and the birth of the republic.

Don Niceto Alcala Zamora, provisional president of Spain, at once assumed power.

Born on May 17, 1886, six months after the death of his father, Alfonso XII, Alfonso XIII automatically became the king of Spain. His mother, Queen Maria Christina, was appointed regent and ruled the country as sovereign until Alfonso became sixteen, when, according to Spanish constitutional law, he reached his majority and came into his full kingship.

Alfonso made no bluff of abdicating in favor of his son. The kingdom of Spain is at an end. And Alfonso, by yielding without bloodshed, won for himself a unique honor. He did not have to take to his heels and scamper for his life. He went out of Spain in a dignified way, a man who feels that he has served his nation well and who knows himself worthy of this last mark of consideration.

It will be interesting to watch the developments in Madrid during the next few weeks, for the trend in government on the continent of Europe has not been wholly a victory for present-day democracy. In certain countries, notably France, a republican government has functioned with admirable stability. In others the tendency has been toward dictatorships.

And the chief difference between a monarchy and a dictatorship is that individual ability and dominance, rather than accident of birth, bring about the selection of the ruler.

IN ASSUMING his duties as viceroy to India, Lord Willingdon finds the country vastly more complex and infinitely more difficult to deal with than was the Dominion of Canada. Instead of having to handle 10,000,000 people with only two principal languages, the new governor general has 350,000,000 speaking 222 vernaculars, all crowded in a space about half the size of Canada.

Lord Willingdon is facing a country not only clamoring for the right to shape her own destiny but one beset with acute racial and religious cleavages and animosities, with Hindus outnumbering Moslems by 3 to 1.

To be sure, every viceroy has had this Moslem-Hindu communal problem to struggle with. Observers in India say it will always exist, as long as the Hindu worships the cow and the Moslem eats it, for it is the so-called desecration of this animal that causes most race riots.

One of the few bright spots Lord Willingdon will find is that the Nationalists are now at peace with the British goverament. But how long this will last depends on what measure of independence Gandhi secures when he goes to the second "round table" conference in London this summer.

If increased remuneration and honors are any compensation for the trials he must face, Lord Willingdon may find some satisfaction in the fact that his $50,000 salary as governor general of Canada is doubled and his expense allowance quadrupled.

Mrs. Longworth

THE funeral of Nicholas Longworth at Cincinnati was attended by notable men from all parts of the United States, all of them warm friends of the late speaker of the house of representatives. President Hoover laid aside pressing public duties to do honor to the memory of Mr. Longworth. Affectionate tributes from all parts of the world laid stress upon his attractive personality. These expressions, and the high esteem manifested by the public and through the press, are a rich legacy of comfort to his family.

Mr. Longworth's death has, of course, completely changed the course of events in the house. A struggle for the speakership would have occurred in any event, but it was taken for granted that Mr. Longworth would command all the votes of his party and thus hold an even chance of winning the speakership. The Republicans must now choose a candidate for speaker, and he will face the difficult task of consolidating the entire party. Although a few Republicans had threatened to bolt, "Nick" Longworth's personal popularity was such that a solid party vote was confidently expected to appear when needed. Now the would-be bolters may not be drawn into line by personal affection for the party leader.

Archie Roosevelt, brother of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, said that his sister "has never and will not seek political office."

Roosevelt made this statement at the Longworth home and added that "my sister will of course go back to Washington where she has a residence, but Cincinnati is her home and she intends to make it such in the future."

Further than this, he said, Mrs. Longworth has no future plans.

This would seem definitely to set at rest rumors that Mrs. Longworth would be a candidate for her late husband's sent in congress.

Gov. L. L. Emmerson

GOV. LOUIS L. Emmerson, contrary to expectations, vetoed the bill for the repeal of the Illinois search and seizure laws. The measure, which would have placed Illinois sixth in the column of states repealing their prohibition enforcement acts, had been enacted by the state senate by only a two-vote margin, 26 to 24.

The vote for it in the house had been 91 to 56. Several of those who voted for repeal in the senate, where the turn of two votes would have changed the vote, frankly admitted they voted for it only because of the referendum, by which the voters of Illinois, by a large majority, expressed their approval of repeal.

Governor Emmerson, however, left the way open for alterations in the repealer, which he said would cause it to meet with his approval.

He declared in his veto message that if the repealer had contained a referendum provision "so that the people of the state, with the full knowledge of the consequences, could vote on wiping out all state liquor legislation without regard to the Constitution of the United States, I should feel compelled to sign the bill."

The governor asserted that the efforts of Illinois "wets" to strike all prohibition laws from the statute books was nullificationism.

James C. Stone

CHAIRMAN James C. Stone of the federal farm board said in a recent statement that Russian activities in the dumping of wheat "were largely responsible for demoralizing the world market and necessitating a renewal of the wheat stabilization operations the middle of last November to prevent further effects of that collapse from being felt in our own market." That is to say, the dumping of Russian wheat into the markets of Europe at any price it would bring was largely the cause of that great accumulation of wheat in storage which now embarrasses the board and the market. That Russia was the main cause of that calamitous slump in wheat last November is a fact that is not questioned by responsible authorities anywhere in the world.

Yet little or none of this wheat came to America. The tariff on wheat is practically prohibitive, even for Russia. And we can if we wish effectively prevent the entry of any Russian products. That, however, will not enable us to escape the consequences of Russia's prodigious economic program, the most extensive and the most audacious economic experiment in the world's history. It need not touch us directly at any point but we cannot escape it. Russia is in a position to make the price in the world market, and it will not be a profitable price.

Much the same situation is developing in relation to lumber and oil. Russia has a larger area of useful timber than any country in the world and as fast as it can, by forced labor, it is turning that timber into lumber in order to realize cash or credit on it from its sales in the markets of the world. The effect on lumber prices must be similar to that on wheat.

The world of the established order has never been confronted by such an economic menace as Russia now presents, not to speak of its social and political menace.

IN THE federal court at Evansville, Ind., Harry E. Rowbottom, former representative in congress of the First Indiana district, was convicted of accepting bribes from persons who sought office appointments.

The former congressman was sentenced immediately by Judge Charles E. Woodward to serve one year and one day in Leavenworth penitentiary and was fined $2,000.

In refusing a request to have the defendant placed on probation because of his physical condition and on the grounds that others involved in the post office deals were not indicted, Judge Woodward said: "Respect for public office is lessened if they may be bought and sold. The offense of which this defendant has been found guilty is grave. I do not deem it necessary to impose the extreme penalty but the sentence must be of such a nature as to deter other congressmen from such practices."

Rowbottom's attorneys indicated that no appeal would be taken. The jury returned its verdict after deliberating two hours and five minutes.

The ex-congressman, testifying as a witness, told of receiving money from job seekers, but insisted it came to him with expressions of sympathy over his unsuccessful campaign for re-election last November.

Secretary Adams

SECRETARY of the Navy Adams ordered the cruiser Memphis from Guantanamo, Cuba, to a position near Nicaraguan waters for use if the rebel movement in Nicaragua should become serious.

The gunboat Asheville also started up the east coast of Central America from the Canal Zone.

Advices received at Panama City by officials of the Standard Fruit Steamship company at Cristobal said three United States marines were killed in an attack by a large force of bandits on the commissary at Logtown, Nicaragua, seven miles from Puerto Cabezas. Puerto Cabezas is on the northeastern coast of Nicaragua.

The three marines listed as killed in the reports to the steamship company were Capt. Harlan Pefley, Lieutenant Darrah and Sergeant Taylor. Several native employees of the commissary also were killed, the report said.

Rev. Karl Bergener of Watertown, Wis., a Moravian missionary in the Prinzapolka district, was reliably reported killed when Cape Gracias a Dios was captured by insurgents. Other American residents of Cape Gracias a Dios include Albert and Edwin Fagot of New Orleans, and William J. Green of Allegheny, Pa.

RUTH NICHOLS, Rye (N. Y.) aviatrix, set a new speed record for women over a three-kilometer course at Detroit (slightly less than two miles) with a speed of 210.685 miles an hour. Amelia Earhart Putnam held the previous record of 181.157 miles an hour.

Miss Nichols flew the Lockheed-Vega plane in which she set a woman's altitude record in March, over an official course laid out near the flying field.

Harry H. Knepper of the National Aeronautical association, checked the flight, and R. A. Leavell, another aeronautical official, timed the race.

Miss Nichols made two round trips over the course and the speed was the average of the four timings. In the trips against the wind she was timed at 191.036 and 202.814 miles an hour, and with the wind the times were 221.825 and 226.880.

The only comment the aviatrix made was that "there wasn't anything particularly exciting about the flight."

PROHIBITION DIRECTOR Woodcock announced a new high peak in federal prohibition enforcement for the month of March, with more arrests and more automobiles seized than in any similar period since July. He declared it was "the best month the bureau has had since I took office nearly a year ago. Notwithstanding the increased activity the courts more than kept up with us. There were 23,583 cases on the docket at the end of February and only 21,548 on April 1.

"Further," he claimed, "we have established a definite trend in these figures showing that the average of fines is steadily decreasing while the average of jail sentences has been steadily increasing in the nine months since prohibition enforcement was transferred from the Treasury to the Justice departments."

Aristide Briand

A DANGEROUSly complicated situation has arisen in the political situation developing in Europe, especially in connection with the Austro-German tariff union and the forthcoming visit of the German chancellor and foreign minister to London for conferences with British government leaders.

Behind the official silence in various capitals many French observers saw important issues centering in the tariff agreement and in the Franco-Italian naval accord, which it was said France is attempting to drop because the government was never fully convinced that it was profitable.

France desires to remain on friendly terms with Britain, because Foreign Minister Aristide Briand has asked the British foreign secretary, Arthur Henderson, to use pressure on Germany to modify the tariff accord when the German chancellor goes to England next month.

Briand has been placed in an exceedingly embarrassing position because of the possibility that he will be elected President of the republic in May, while he would prefer to conclude the naval accord with Italy by continuing his work at the Quai d'Orsay.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
By Helen Gartner

The girls observed "tomboy" day at school Monday. Many of the girls represented famous characters in youthful stories, and deserve mention for their masquerade.

The high school orchestra and band are entering a musical contest in San Francisco May 1.

Next Saturday, April 25, the two biology classes, accompanied by Miss Boesch, are going to Moss Landing for the day. A picnic lunch is being planned. They will use the school bus, leaving in the early morning and returning late in the afternoon.

Oriole staff meetings have been suspended until proofs have been secured from the printers.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Ninnis left Campbell Friday to make their future home in Willow Glen. After their residence here for the past 12 years their many friends will miss them.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Knopf and family were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Knopf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Kornsfedt of King City.

The Ada Rebekah lodge will hold a card party in the I.O.O.F. hall this Wednesday afternoon.

To keep a wife young and happy

....give her a modern kitchen

Cook with Electricity —the modern way

Many wives spend long hours in a kitchen through whose single window the sun seldom shines.

After a few years of such monotony, is it any wonder that wives lose their good nature?

The electric range is famous for giving women more hours of leisure—to form social contacts or to be spent in the sunshine. For the electric range cooks automatically. Simply prepare the food—place it in the oven—set the controls and go your way. When you return, hours later, the meal is perfectly done—hot—and ready to serve.

Electric cooking is speedy because of the new cooking elements. As for cost of operation—that averages about 1c per meal per person. The cost of the electric range itself is no more than that of any other good range.

A small payment down will place the electric range of your choice in your kitchen, ready to use. Come into our office or a dealer's store and see the beautiful new electric ranges.

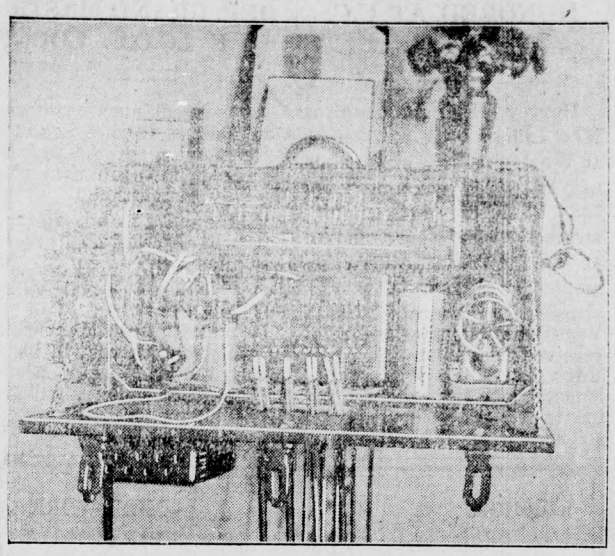
Central Office in a Suit-Case



The town of Rupert, Vt., gets its telephone service through the portable switchboard shown in this picture; not that it is carried around nowadays, but because it was originally a portable telephone testing outfit. When a nearby telephone company decided to open a central office in Rupert some years ago, the suit-case equipment was handy and filled the bill. Now telephone service is being furnished by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, and a modern switchboard is soon to replace this little one which could, if necessary, be tucked under someone's arm and carried away.

PUNDITAS MEET WITH MRS. PAGE

The Pundita Circle held its regular meeting at the home of its president, Mrs. Geo. W. Page, Wednesday afternoon, April 15.

"Travels in Spain" was the subject of the day. Mrs. W. H. Stray read "A Tale of the Alhambra" and "Sirens of Seville" from "Royal Road to Romance" by Richard Haliburton. A chapter was also read from M. C. Lineman's "Business and Protective Law."

Mrs. Page was assisted by Mrs. A. C. Anderson and Mrs. Walter Stray in the preparation of the program.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. J. Pardee Wednesday afternoon April 29, and the subject will be "Modern Drama."

YOUNG WOMENS SERVICE CLUB MEETS APRIL 15

The April meeting of the Young Women's Service club was held at the home of Mrs. C. E. York on Quito road Wednesday, April 15. It was an all-day meeting with a picnic lunch on the lawn. Mrs. Harry Lohr assisted Mrs. York as hostess.

The members worked on dresser covers for an orphanage and painted furniture for a needy family. The furniture was donated by members of the club.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marion Howes, with Miss Anna Hagelin assisting hostess.

Mrs. A. DeWitt is out of the hospital after a major operation and is recuperating at the home of Mrs. Marie Medlock in San Jose.

HIGH P.T.A. TO STAGE CARD PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

The Campbell Hi P. T. A. will have a card party at the high school annex Friday evening, April 24, at 8:00. Prizes and refreshments are the order of the evening.

Proceeds from this party will go toward student aid, and some will be used for the party to be given the class winning the attendance prize.

On the committee of arrangements are Mesdames S. N. Hedegard, N. O. Best, M. F. Hughes, Robert Lear, and G. E. Farley. Tickets are on sale at Field's store, or may be had at the entrance to the annex Friday evening.

Josephine LaBarbera visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Snow in Alameda, and with her brother, Phil Raineri in Antioch.

HERVEY VOGE IS HONORED AT U.C. INITIATION FETE

Hervey H. Voge, son of Mrs. Lillian Voge and senior at the University of California, last week was among the 138 students and faculty members who were honored at the formal initiation ceremonies of Sigma Xi, national scientific honorary society. Voge was among those who received associate memberships for outstanding excellence in one or more departments of pure or applied science.

HORACE LEA DIST. DEP. GRAND MASTR OF I.O.O.F. LODGE

At a recent meeting of the Odd Fellows Horace Lea was recommended for the post of district deputy grand master for this district.

William Coupland, Horace Lea and Ed Mitchell were elected as delegates to the grand lodge in San Francisco in May.

It was announced at this meeting that there will be a barbecue and dance at Alum Rock park Saturday night for Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their families.
